Originally built in 1488 as one of the three city gates of Amsterdam, it was transformed into a weighing house when the city expanded in the 1600s and the name stuck. In the 19th century the building served as a municipal fencing hall, fire station and archive. This characteristic monumental structure now houses Restaurant-Café In de Waag.

In de Waag is an ideal place in the heart of Amsterdam for a lunch, reception, meeting or dinner. This magnificent historic building with its constrained yet informal interior design is offering a fantastic dining experience in an atmospheric space lit by 300 candles.
